

- ①
- b. illuminating a set of more than one of the plurality of through-holes with optical radiation; and
 - c. separately analyzing the optical radiation emanating from each through-hole of the set of more through-holes than one using an optical arrangement including a detector array.
-

22

44. (Amended) A method according to claim 14, 16, or 41, wherein at least one of the samples is in liquid form.
